

The Dead

A final check of the morgues this morning definitely fixed the number of white dead at nine.

F. M. Baker, Haviland, Kansas, who died at the Morningside hospital last night at 9:30 o'clock.

Ernest Austin, 39, 10 1/2 N. Main st., an employee of the Pathe Phonograph Shop, who was previously identified as F. M. Baker. His former home is in Houghton, N. Y., where his aunt, Mrs. Carry Worden, lives.

Walter Daggs, manager of the Pierce Oil Corporation of Tulsa.

Arthur Janes, Wynona, Okla.

Cleo Shumate, of Tulsa, son of William Ingersoll of Neodesha, Kans.

Carl D. Lotspeich, 28, Tulsa.

Homer C. Clyne, 16 years old, Tulsa.

S. J. Withrow, 19 years old, Tulsa.

An unidentified man about 40 years old at the Mitchell-Fleming undertaking parlors.

IDENTIFIED NEGROES.

John Wheeler, negro porter, First National bank. Killed while on his way to work Wednesday morning. He was struck by a stray bullet and killed instantly.

Dr. A. C. Jackson, shot to death while running from his burning home. He was one of Tulsa's most prominent negro physicians and surgeons.

William Turner, 35, shot through abdomen; died at Morningside hospital last night.

George Jeffery or Jefferies, 36; shot through addomen; died in Morningside hospital last night.

Sregg Alexander, 26; shot in back; died at Morningside hospital last night.