Physically handicapped citizens visiting the Tulsa Municipal Court building have two options for entry. If they are being dropped off, they can conveniently use the turnabout drive for easy access. The turnabout is located on the plaza level, on the north side of the building, across from the Aloft Hotel. If arriving by car and utilizing the parking area, they should make their way to the east door of the building on the parking level. A buzzer system is in place to request entry, where they will be escorted to the plaza level by elevator.

We prioritize the needs of all individuals and are committed to providing a welcoming environment for everyone. Should there be any specific accessibility concerns or additional assistance required, we encourage visitors to contact Municipal Court staff beforehand.
